GENT OUTLOOK

There weren't any smiling faces in the Centenary lockerroom after the Gents dropped the Trans America Athletic Conference Championship to Arkansas-Little Rock last March 9th at Barton Coliseum in Little Rock.

But there should have been...

Centenary had just completed a winning 16-14 season that included five straight victories to earn a berth in the TAAC Finals ... for the fourth time in the 11-year history of the league. The Gents and UALR have appeared in more title games (4) than any other league members. The last battle was staged in front of 6,169 fans, not to mention a national television, ESPN, audience.

In TAAC championship games, the Gents are 1-3. In all four games it has been the Centenary legacy to play the host team (beat Northeast Louisiana, 1980; lost to Northeast in 1982 and to UALR in 1986 and 1989).

Seven of the nine games the Gents played heading into the conference tournament last year were decided in overtime or by one point ... Centenary won five of those and also took an opening round tourney triumph at the buzzer over Mercer.

Indeed, not a bad season for a team that had to watch its sixth man, Rodney Martin, hobbled/sidelined with injuries from the third game on.

Martin, Fred McNealey and Pete Scalia are key graduation losses from last year. McNealey hung up his Centenary uniform as the seventh all-time Gent scorer (1,449 points) and fifth rebounder (749 rebounds). He played in 114 games (tied 3rd) and laced 'em up in two TAAC Finals.

Four starters return to the Centenary lineup in 1989-90 as TOMMY VARDEMAN is the new Gent head coach. Vardeman served as Tommy Canterbury's associate/assistant for 10 seasons, as they combined to guide Centenary to that 1980 TAAC title.

"I think we are going to be pretty good," said Vardeman. "We finished strong last year, and it is a big plus to have four starters back."

One of the returnees is 6-5 swingman LARRY ROBINSON. When you mention "Rob" you have already said a mouth-full.

-1988-89 TAAC Newcomer-of-the-Year (fourth Gent in 11 years to win this award ... also Cherokee Rhone, Willie Jackson and Gene Vandenlangenberg).

-2nd team All-TAAC (highest vote-getter on second team).

-ranked 3rd in TAAC Player-of-the-Year balloting.

-3rd team All-Louisiana...received vote for "Newcomer".

-helped Gents win four games last year with decisive shots in the closing seconds ... including an unbelievable 12-foot spin-around jumper at the buzzer at Houston Baptist, after receiving an 82-foot in-bounds pass from Scalia with just one second left (82-81, Gents and the CNN PLAY OF THE WEEK).

-twice last year earned TAAC Player-of-the Week.

-averaged 18.6 points and 6.7 rebounds as junior (5th and 12th in TAAC, respectively) ... 2.1 steals led TAAC.

Enough reasons to be tabbed pre-season TAAC MVP this year.

Robinson didn't and can't do it alone, however.

"As long as you have a Larry Robinson and enough help, you have a chance to win," said Vardeman. "I feel we have a strong supporting cast. That helped us last year, too."

MARRO HAWKINS (10.7 ppg., 5.7 rpg.), PATRICK GREER (10.5 and 4.8 assists) and BYRON STEWARD (9.7 and 7.4) provide more firepower to the Centenary unit ... one that last year scored 81.6 points a game (11th highest team average in Gent history).

Hawkins was superb down the stretch with four double-digit rebounding games in five outings. "Hawk" also powered for 24 points in the tight tourney win vs. Mercer.

Greer was the fifth best assist man in the TAAC as a sophomore, and on February 9th, 1989, he endeared himself to many Centenary fans with 25 points to beat Arkansas-Little Rock, 114-113 (OT), in one of the greatest games ever played at the Gold Dome.

Steward paced the Gents in rebounding for the second straight year. His 7.1 board average was good for seventh in the league. In TAAC circles, Centenary had the only trio of Top 15 league rebounders in Steward, Robinson and McNealey. It's possible again this year if Hawkins comes to the front.

Steward has shown flashes of brilliance during his two-year career, including a 25-point first half outburst in a win over Northwestern last season.

The Gents will also rely on guards BLAINE RUSSELL and TYRONE COLEMAN. Russell can get hotter than most from beyond three-point range, and his long arms get to a lot of passes defensively. Coleman is one of the best athletes in a Centenary jersey, and the Gents were glad to have his career-high 17 points to get by UALR. Coleman also provided the overall spark needed in the TAAC semis last winter.

JOHN BUCKWALTER and JIMMY DALCOURT also return.

Buckwalter, at 6-6, 215 pounds, should battle for a starting forward spot. He sat out all of last year, although he was eligible at mid-term, to have two full years left to play. "Buck" might not be the runner or jumper that McNealey was, but he could be the best pure shooter on the team – from any range. Plus he can mix it up inside, too.

Five newcomers join Centenary's squad this year. One guard, SHANNON WASHINGTON, and four forwards: FRANK LANE, JASON CLARK, MATT LOWERY and PAUL PYLE.

Lane and Lowery have the most experience, but Washington, Clark and Pyle have put up some good numbers for their previous teams. Washington, the nephew of graduated Rodney Martin, and Clark were prep stars, while the others are from respected junior college or college programs.

To challenge again in the TAAC - regarded in the middle of the pack of NCAA Division I leagues - Centenary will again rely on ample talent, togetherness and a few good bounces.

"I tell our guys, 'allow us a chance to win the game,'" said Vardeman, " 'Be close at the end,' ".

The Gents tip-off the 1989-90 season by hosting the CENTURY CELLUNET CLASSIC, November 24-25th at the Gold Dome. The tournament includes: Mississippi State, Baylor and Northeast Louisiana. Centenary has road engagements set for New Mexico, Mississippi State, Texas A&M and Baylor. The Gents beat those same two Southwest Conference schools last year. Centenary also travels to Moscow, Idaho for the PALOUSE CLASSIC to be hosted by Idaho, with Washington State also participating.

Sixteen TAAC regular season games will seed the top eight for a return trip to Barton Coliseum in Little Rock for the TAAC Tournament.

There were many smiles for Centenary in that building last year ... could there be one additional smile this year?

MORE FROM THE COACH

THE SCHEDULE: "You don't have to be a rocket scientist to figure out we've got a tough one...on the road to New Mexico (three straight 20-win seasons and NIT in 1989, Lobos average 17,000 fans per game), Idaho (25-6, NCAA), Texas A&M, Mississippi State, Baylor and also TAAC powers Arkansas-Little Rock (NCAA) and Georgia Southern (NIT). This is one of the most challenging schedules we have had in some time. It's a pretty good blend ... not all give and no take ... because Baylor and Mississippi State also come here. They call New Mexico's arena, The Pit, but our players aren't planning on being invited to a barbecue. The top six teams in the TAAC are difficult to deal with, so the preseason schedule won't be any rougher than January on ..."

KEYS TO SUCCESS: "Always play together as a team ... team oriented. We must use our quickness on defense and rebounding. You always hope to improve your shooting percentages (FG and FT) ... they never get high enough. We need to find a way to win the close ones like last year (Gents won 5 of 7 late last year in OT or by one point ... and another by two points). Most importantly we must stay injury-free."

SCORING: "That has never been a problem at Centenary (Gents averaged over 80 ppg. each of the last two years ... 81.6 ppg. a year ago). I'm not sure if we have a great pure shooter, but we're not playing horse. We have five or six guys who can get it in. Quickness will again be a key, but I think we've got a chance to shoot better in a half-court game."

REBOUNDING: "We don't have a giant, but we do have better overall size ... height and bulk. For the first time in a while, we'll be able to substitute a 6-7 guy with another 6-7. Our 6-5ers can really jump and our technique will continue to be important."

DEFENSE: "The difference between winning and losing ... it hasn't been as good as we would have liked, and I've got to take most of the blame for that. We want the game strung out between the free throw lines, where our speed can be a factor. But if the ball goes to the low post, we're planning on doing a better job ... easier said than done."

BENCH: "Competition is the best thing in life. If a starter isn't getting it done, we're going to find somebody sitting near me, who thinks he can. We will be deeper on the bench than before. All five of our recruits are players."

TOMMY VARDEMAN

Centenary Head Basketball Coach

Tommy Vardeman waited longer than most for his first head coaching opportunity at the Division I level. The 23 years he has spent on the sidelines should serve Centenary College and him well.

Vardeman probably won't have to reinvent the pick-and-roll to be successful because he spent 10 seasons as a Centenary associate/assistant coach with Tommy Canterbury. Canterbury announced his retirement midway through last season (January 3, 1989), and one of his closest friends, Vardeman, was selected for the job.

"We want to continue the style of play Centenary is noted for," said Vardeman, "pushing the ball up the floor. I don't anticipate any major changes in our strategy, but I do think our size is a little better, which may help us defensively inside."

In Vardeman's first year as an assistant at Centenary, he teamed with Canterbury to help the Gents win the inaugural Trans America Athletic Conference Championship by beating Northeast Louisiana in Monroe in 1980.

"Our philosophy has always been to have something left for the stretch run," added Vardeman, "and our players have usually been ready for the challenge in late February and early March. We've played in four (TAAC) championship games in 11 years (twice in the last four seasons). That says a lot for our program."

A graduate of Stephen F. Austin University (1965), Vardeman played two years for the Lumberjacks of SFA. The native of Center, Texas has coached basketball in high school, junior college and college. Vardeman compiled a 76-36 W-L record in his first four years of high school coaching, and also made college coaching stops at Missouri Baptist Junior College, Henderson State University and Louisiana Tech (top assistant for four years), before coming to Centenary in 1979 ... after spending a year in the wholesale jewelry business.

"Tommy Canterbury asked me to join him at Centenary as an assistant coach," said Vardeman. "He allowed me the freedom to have greater input and take on more responsibilities than the average assistant coach. I feel prepared to be a head coach, and I thank him for that."

"Hopefully at the end of the season I'll feel the same way," Vardeman said with a smile.

Vardeman has more one-liners than Bob Hope ... OK maybe just Johnny Carson. He's had mentions in Sports Illustrated and on Paul Harvey to prove it.

"Recruiting wouldn't be a problem if we could just keep the good ones ... forever," smiled Vardeman.

"TV" is married to the former Sharon Crocker and they have two daughters, both Centenary students - Juli 22, and Jennifer, 19.

What They Are "Saying" About Tommy Vardeman

Walt Stevens, Centenary Athletic Director

"Tommy Vardeman was a true and faithful assistant and earned the opportunity to be a head coach."

Tommy Canterbury, former Centenary Head Coach (1978-89)

"Tommy Vardeman and I virtually lived together for 10 years. I have complete confidence in his abilities on the floor. He was a major reason we played in four TAAC Finals in the '80's. I think his hiring is a very positive factor because Tommy already knows the working parts of Centenary Basketball - both on campus and off. Centenary is unique, and it takes a special person to get the job done."

Tommy Joe Eagles, Auburn University Head Coach

"Tommy Vardeman is a guy who loves this game very much. He really paid his dues and has every quality to be an outstanding head coach ... preparation, organization ... a stickler for the little things, who understands the college game. This position is long overdue for him."

Pat Foster, University of Houston Head Coach

"Tommy Vardeman is a very good friend! He's been in the game long enough that he knows all the angles and what it takes to be a winner. Vardeman is a plus for Centenary Basketball."

Greg Haddox, former Centenary player and coach, now Assistant at Auburn University

"Tommy Vardeman has compassion for his players, not just as athletes, but as people, too. He does a great job of conveying his basketball knowledge to his players. As a coaching companion, I owe him everything for taking me under his wing and helping me get in this business."

GENTLEMANIA

Centenary is one of only two Trans America Athletic Conference (TAAC) schools to appear in four (4) championship basketball games in the 11-year history of the league (Arkansas-Little Rock is the other).

Centenary won the TAAC Basketball Championship in 1980 at the conference tournament in Monroe, LA. Additional championship game appearances: 1982, 1986 and 1989 ... all four games the Gents went against the host school.

Centenary is the alma mater of Robert Parish, 14-year NBA great ... starting center for the three-time World Champion Boston Celtics ... Parish is a seven-time NBA All-Star.

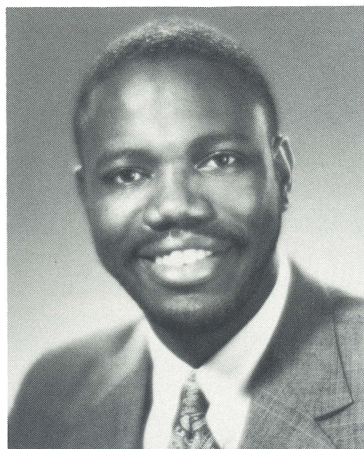

Seven Centenary basketball players have been drafted by the NBA in the last 14 years ... Cherokee Rhone has played professionally in Europe the last seven years and was twice named "Player of the Year" (1986 & 1987) in the league.

Centenary's overall athletic department is competitively strong ... in 1988-89 Centenary became the first school in TAAC history to appear in THREE championship games (basketball, baseball and soccer) in the same year...the championship appearance streak is currently at four (4) and counting!

WILLIE JACKSON

Willie Jackson, one of the best Centenary basketball players of all time, begins his second year on the Gent coaching staff. Jackson, who spent the prior two seasons as head coach at Caldwell Parish High (just south of Monroe, LA), was drafted after his senior year (1983-84) at Centenary in the fourth round by the NBA's Houston Rockets.

The Gent all-time scoring leader with 2,535 points (22.2 average over four years) was the final guard cut by the Rockets in 1981, so he spent two seasons playing in the CBA. In his last three years at Centenary, Jackson never finished lower than 11th in the nation in scoring.

"Jack" is the only THREE-time Trans America Athletic Conference Player-of-the-Year and as a freshman was voted Newcomer-of-the-Year.

"Willie was the type player that doesn't come around that often," said his boss, Tommy Vardeman, "... talented and coachable. He's got a knack of getting the players to respond to him during practice drills. I like that because it makes our team better in the long run."

Jackson is Centenary's second all-time rebounder with 1,013 (8.9 rpg over four years), and the Sibley High product scored 30 or more points in 21 different games as a Gent.

Jackson also led Sibley to 100 consecutive basketball wins before enrolling at Centenary in 1980.

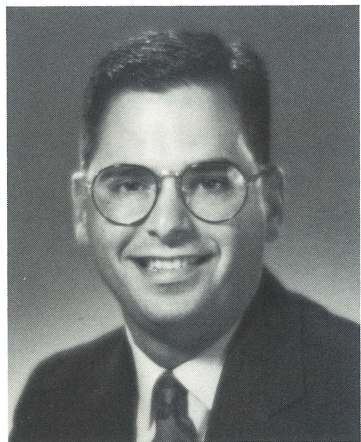

Jackson is married to the former Zebber Satcher, a Centenary graduate who also played basketball for the Ladies. Their daughter, Ashley, is one year old. Jackson was the first black coach to be hired at Centenary.

In addition to his on-the-floor duties, Jackson also aids in recruiting and scouting.

The Jackson's,
Ashley held by Zebber and Willie.

GENT ASSISTANT

STEVE ROCCAFORTE

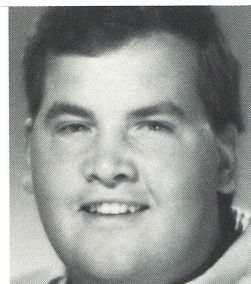

Steve Roccaforte, student assistant coach at Lamar University the past three years, was named assistant coach on Tommy Vardeman's staff at Centenary in May, 1989.

Roccaforte, a Port Arthur, Texas native, who handled scheduling and equipment at Lamar, as well as working with recruiting, graduated from Lamar in 1989 with a B.B.A. in Liberal Arts (Applied Arts & Sciences).

"We had some 50 applicants for the job," said Centenary coach Tommy Vardeman, "and from day one he aggressively went after it. His primary emphasis will be in recruiting and scouting, but he has talents in many areas that will benefit our program. We are extremely happy to have him."

Roccaforte, 24, is single.

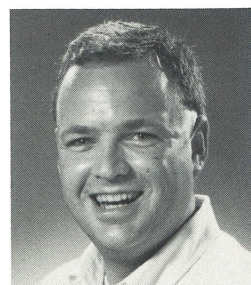

STEVE MURRAY – Trainer

Steve Murray is in his third year as Athletic Trainer at Centenary. Murray graduated from Gannon University (Erie, Pennsylvania) in 1985 and also has a Master's in Sports Administration from the U.S. Sports Academy.

Murray, 26, who calls Emporium, Pennsylvania home, pitched collegiately at Gannon (1981-84). He will marry the former Candy Neal on December 30th of this year.

DANNY McBRIDE – Student Trainer

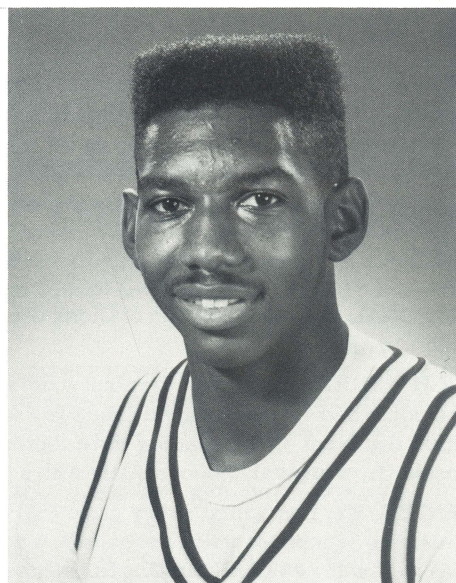

Danny McBride begins his second year with the Centenary Basketball program as student trainer. McBride, a native of Whitehouse, Texas spent two seasons in the same capacity at Tyler Junior College with Coach Roy Thomas.

McBride, a 23-year-old physical education major, oversees many of the basketball training duties on a daily basis, while supporting the staff in various other endeavors. McBride is pursuing a career as a certified trainer.

CENTENARY THE OLDEST COLLEGE WEST OF THE MISSISSIPPI

A liberal arts college exists to enhance the quality of life for its students and, through them, for society. The liberal arts, by tradition, free the mind from dogma and intellectual conformity in order that students may realize their fullest potential as individuals.

Centenary College is a liberal arts institution which provides superior education for students capable of intellectual leadership and for those who can benefit from study in an academic community where excellence is encouraged and individuality is respected. Such a community is fostered by the residential nature of the campus, an important factor in the development of the Centenary educational experience.

Centenary seeks to provide its students with a basic understanding of human affairs and problems; to motivate them to think clearly, honestly, and constructively and to communicate effectively; and to introduce them to the arts and sciences, that they may enjoy the best of the heritage of civilization.

Centenary places emphasis on preparations for various professions, both those for which a student can be prepared during his undergraduate career and those which require further graduate and professional study.

As an institution of the United Methodist Church, Centenary believes that knowledge and religious faith have to be linked if one is to enhance the meaning of the other. The College strives to challenge its students to serve society by exemplifying the highest Christian ethic. Our educational philosophy is thus supported by and founded on a Judeo-Christian heritage which emphasizes the wholeness of human life, the interrelatedness of knowledge, and the dignity of man.

Established in 1825 as the College of Louisiana, in Jackson, the school merged in 1848 with Centenary College, which had been founded six years earlier by the Methodist Church in Clinton, Mississippi. In 1908, accepting a generous offer of land and support from the Atkins family and a group of friends, the College moved to Shreveport.

Centenary College is fully accredited by the recognized regional and national agencies and is approved by the University Senate of The United Methodist Church. Centenary is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

With a student/professor ratio of fourteen to one, the classes at Centenary range in size from thirty students in popular introductory courses to six to ten students in junior and senior seminars.

Centenary College is especially and justly proud of its faculty, many of whom are nationally and internationally known authorities in their fields of study. Over two-thirds of the faculty hold terminal degrees. Eleven members of the faculty and staff have earned the coveted key of Phi Beta Kappa. Thirteen have the honor of membership in Omicron Delta Kappa.

Within the past decade Centenary professors have been awarded an impressive number of research fellowships and study grants by the American Council of Learned Societies, the American Philosophical Society, the Henry E. Huntington Library, and the National Endowment for the Humanities. (There have been ten NEH awards to Centenary professors.) During that same period, Centenary faculty members have also been honored as Danforth Associates, Fulbright lecturers, national officers in professional associations, and visiting professors in American and European universities.

Shreveport is located on the west bank of the Red River in Northwest Louisiana. The metropolitan area has a population in excess of 300,000 and forms the geographical, cultural and economic center of the region known as the Ark-La-Tex.

The climate of the area features pleasant spring and fall temperatures, consistently warm summers and mild winters, with cold periods of short duration. The average annual temperature is 66° Fahrenheit. Residents enjoy outdoor sports and recreation throughout the year.

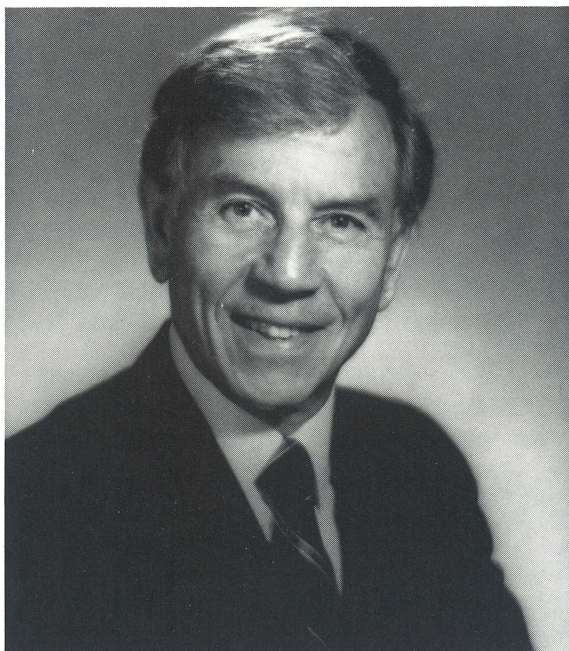

The Shreveport area is a major producer of oil and natural gas.

Another important part of the local economy is Barksdale Air Force Base, the headquarters of the Eighth Air Force and one of the largest bases of the Strategic Air Command.

The city has many fine medical and health care facilities, including a state medical center, school of medicine, and seven general hospitals.

Centenary College and members of the Shreveport community enjoy joint participation in cultural events. Opportunities in athletics, theater, musical events, opera, dance, and the visual arts are offered on and off campus.

The sixty-five-acre campus of Centenary College, two miles south of downtown Shreveport, is widely known for its natural beauty and stately Georgian architecture.

DR. DONALD A. WEBB
PRESIDENT

Centenary's commitment to athletics is a lifestyle both old as ancient Greece and fresh as daybreak. Perhaps it was the Roman, Juvenal, who put the conviction best: "mens sana in corpore sano"; and a sound mind in a healthy body is the crux of education.

That is why we put the College's heart and full resources into it; athletics enables excellence, and we are committed to that.

As for the daybreak bit, come to the Gold Dome Complex and hear the support. The image that springs to mind is Kipling's "the dawn come up like thunder." Athletics draws better than anything the enthusiasm of the campus and the city and provides a fine focus for both their recreation and their common loyalty. Athletics creates a good community, and we are committed to that.

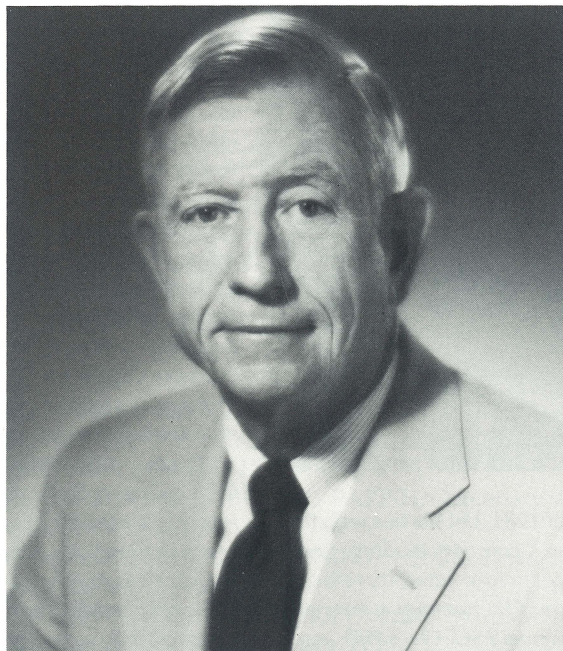

In 1977 as Centenary's new president, Donald A. Webb brought with him those traditions of excellence and pride of community to which the College is so deeply committed.

Born in Wales and raised in England, President Webb was educated at King's School in Peterborough, and at Cambridge University. He spent eight years in the Royal Navy, the last three as commanding officer of HMS Switha.

In 1958 he brought his wife, Renee, and their five children to the United States; and after graduating with honors from Ohio Wesleyan University, he earned his Master of Divinity Degree from Methodist Theological School. In 1966, he earned his Ph.D. in Literature and Theology from Drew University, where he also coached the rugby team.

He served as Vice President and Professor of Theology and Literature of the Methodist Theological School for 10 years before coming to Centenary as president.

Since that time, Dr. Webb has made a distinct impression on Centenary and the community as a man of commitment – at work and at play.

WALT STEVENS
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Walter C. Stevens, Jr., in his ninth year as Centenary College's athletic director, is the man responsible for coordinating activities and fund-raising for the athletic department.

A native of Macon, Ga., the retired Air Force Colonel of 30 years graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1951. He later earned a master's at Louisiana Tech.

In his nine-year service at Centenary, Stevens has been instrumental in the purchase of a new portable wooden floor for the Gold Dome, and completion of a six-court $180,000 tennis complex. He has also served as president of the Trans America Athletic Conference for two years (1986-87). He was president of the Louisiana Athletic Directors Association in 1988-89.

Under Stevens' direction, Centenary's athletic teams earned the first-ever Jesse C. Fletcher Award in 1983-84 and finished as runner-up in 1987-88 and 1988-89. The award distinguishes the TAAC school with the strongest athletic program during a year.

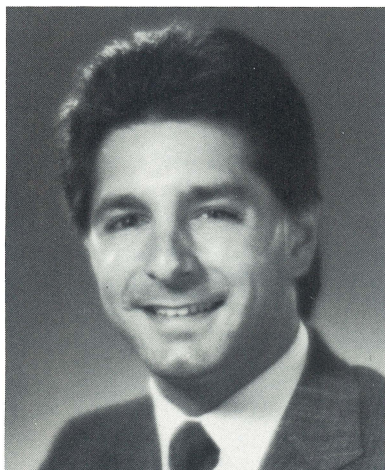

Stevens came to Centenary in February of 1981 and went to work as the Development Counselor in charge of raising academic and athletic scholarships. The following August he was appointed athletic director.

"We believe Centenary athletics is a cause for excitement, as our programs are the only source for Division I sports in Shreveport-Bossier," Stevens said.

"In 1989-90, we will sponsor seven NCAA sports for men and six for women. The men's sports are basketball, baseball, cross-country, golf, riflery, soccer, and tennis. Our women participate in cross-country, gymnastics, riflery, softball, tennis and volleyball."

Stevens coached freshman basketball and baseball from 1957-60 at Georgia Tech and studied under the legendary Bobby Dodd, who coached there for 30 years.

He is married to the former Caroline Stillwell of Macon. They have two sons and three daughters.

PAT BOORAS

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR/SID

In his sixth year at Centenary, Pat Booras as Assistant Athletic Director/SID promotes the athletic department in various capacities as well as managing the sports information office. The SID office strives to promote Centenary College through media and public-ity releases of its athletes.

Booras officially joined the Centenary Staff in September of 1984, but his ties with the school and its athletics began in 1979. As a Centenary student, Booras worked in the sports information office for four years, traveling with the Gents baseball team as its statistician. His last two years in school, Booras headed baseball broadcasts on KSCL (91.3 FM) – an assignment he still undertakes on KFLO (1300 AM).

Booras, 28, graduated with honors from Centenary in May of 1983, with a bachelor's degree in accounting. He worked for Roberts, Cherry & Co. CPA's until his appointment at Centenary.

A native of Shreveport, Booras also has additional sports and broadcasting experience at Centenary and beyond. For the fifth consecutive season Booras is a member of the Gent basketball broadcast team – serving as play-by-play announcer or color analyst. He also is the host of The Tommy Vardeman Show on KTAL-TV 6 during basketball season.

Booras also hosts, Let's Talk Sports, and hour-long sports call-in show every Monday night on KFLO. He has handled the play-by-play broadcasts of high school football games for six years – the last two in the Shreveport-Bossier area on KFLO.

Booras covered prep football for The Times from 1978 through 1984, and worked with KRMD Radio in 1983 as an analyst on football broadcasts.

In August of 1987, Booras served as Master of Ceremonies and introduced Democratic Presidential Nominee, Michael Dukakis, at a luncheon in New Orleans.

He also called the action in March 1987 of the first girl's basketball game ever broadcast (KEEL 710 AM) in the area...Southfield beat Pleasant Hill, 42-40, in Lake Charles, LA to win the Class C State Championship.

Booras originated Centenary Sports Hotline, which provides daily updates on Centenary athletics to the media and fans, in 1988.

CORY ROGERS

STUDENT SID

Cory Rogers is in his second year as student SID at Centenary. The Byrd High graduate of 1988, now 19, was a member of the Yellow-jacket baseball and football teams.

Rogers, who assists with all sports in the SID office, is an English/Communications major. He also provided color analysis on Gent baseball broadcasts last year and handled the play-by-play of various Byrd football telecasts this fall. On KFLO prep football broadcasts he added color analysis.

THE GOLD DOME COMPLEX

The geodesic Gold Dome, constructed in 1970, is a landmark located just south of the main Centenary College campus. Besides housing the Centenary basketball team, the Gold Dome is a multi-purpose facility, constructed at a cost of $1.3 million plus equipment.

With a seating capacity of 4,000, including cushioned armchairs on the upper level bleachers on both sides of the court, the Gents have a home court seldom equaled by schools of their size.

Unique features of the structure include a Tartan floor underneath a newly installed portable wooden floor for basketball, indirect lighting and the attractive gold anodized aluminum dome. The completely air-conditioned facility contains office space for the athletic and physical education departments, two classrooms, including one of the theater variety, and four large, carpeted dressing rooms.

Like the building itself, the basketball court is a multipurpose area, easily converted into two crosscourt basketball courts, or eight volleyball courts, or 16 badminton courts. At the east end of the building are two championship handball courts, complete with spectator windows.

The dome was designed by the Shreveport architectural firm of Somdal-Smitherman-Sorensen-Sherman and Associates. Whitaker Construction Company of Shreveport was the contractor, while the Temcor Company of California erected the gold-colored dome.

ORIGIN AND HISTORY OF THE TRANS AMERICA ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

For a period of eleven years, the Trans America Athletic Conference has climbed its way up the ranks of Division I, building a solid league of intercollegiate athletics. Now, eleven years may sound like a long time, but working to be one of the best is a long and tedious effort and a period of just over a decade is a short time indeed.

That's why the second decade of the TAAC excites everyone involved in the conference. Only bigger and better things are awaiting league members.

The TAAC began modestly back on September 19, 1978, when eight NCAA Division I basketball schools — Centenary College in Shreveport, La.; Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Texas; Houston Baptist University in Houston, Texas; Mercer University in Macon, Ga.; Northeast Louisiana in Monroe, La.; Oklahoma City University in Oklahoma City, Okla.; Pan American University in Edinburg, Texas; and Samford University in Birmingham, Ala. — met to form and introduce the new conference. And, thus, the TAAC was born.

Schools have come and gone during the first decade of the TAAC. Oklahoma City University and Pan American University left during the 1979-80 season, and in came Georgia Southern College of Statesboro, Ga., and Northwestern (La.) State of Natchitoches, La., that same season. The University of Arkansas at Little Rock later joined the TAAC ranks in 1980. Following the departure of Northeast Louisiana, Nicholls State of Thibideaux, La., entered the conference in 1982-83. The TAAC then admitted Georgia State University of Atlanta, Ga., later in 1983, while Nicholls State and Northwestern (La.) State withdrew following the 1983-84 season.

Within the last four years, the TAAC has welcomed Stetson University of DeLand, Fla., and the University of Texas at San Antonio. Stetson, a former Division I independent, joined on July 1, 1985, while UTSA was welcomed in on July 1, 1986 after an independent status. Houston Baptist left the league in 1989.

Headquartered in Athens, Ga., since January 1984 after previously calling Shreveport, La., home, the TAAC has a bright future.

Things began to happen in the early 1980s. Georgia Southern resumed Division I-AA football in 1982 after a 40-year absence and, although the TAAC doesn't sponsor football as one of its sports throughout the conference, the name recognition was helpful on the national level. And a pair of national football championships in '85 and '86 was certainly an added boost. There was the greatly-needed addition of an automatic bid to the NCAA basketball championships for the 1980-81 season. A Mike Newell-led UALR team came on strong in 1985-86 and upset heavily-favored Notre Dame in the first round of the '86 NCAA Midwest Regional in Minneapolis. Only a grueling double-overtime loss to N.C. State kept UALR out of the sweet 16. But it didn't keep UALR and the rest of the TAAC from serving notice to the college basketball world that it means business.

The proof came in the next two seasons. In 1986-87 UALR and Georgia Southern both made it to postseason play, a first-ever for the TAAC to have two teams in postseason tournaments. While Georgia Southern took eventual NCAA runner-up Syracuse to the limit in an East Regional opening round game, UALR was marching all the way to the Big Apple in the NIT with wins over Baylor, Stephen F. Austin and Cal-Berkeley. UALR finished fourth in the 32-team field, which marked the highest finish ever for a TAAC team.

In 1987-88 the TAAC continued to do itself one better by sending Texas-San Antonio to the NCAAs and UALR and Georgia Southern to the NIT — the first time the TAAC had sent three teams into postseason action. In the 1989 NCAA Basketball Tournament #5 Louisville got by Arkansas-Little Rock, 76-71, in the first round.

Much of the progress can be attributed to the hard work of TAAC Commissioner Lou McCullough, a highly-respected administrator of 40 years in intercollegiate athletics. McCullough provides the TAAC with a rich and experienced wealth of knowledge. His leadership and solid athletic background led him into the college football coaching ranks. His coaching tenure is quite impressive with stints at his alma mater of Wofford, Wyoming, Indiana, Iowa State and Ohio State. While at Ohio State, McCullough served as defensive coordinator for the late coaching legend Woody Hayes. His defensive troops played a major role in the Buckeyes' 1968 national championship and 1969 Rose Bowl win over Southern Cal and Heisman Trophy winner O.J. Simpson.

McCullough then moved on as athletic director of Iowa State where he served in that capacity for 12 years.

After taking over as commissioner in November 1983, McCullough has directed many projects in the conference, including expansion and stabilization within the league, securing television for the TAAC basketball tournament championship game on ESPN, and complete structuring of the TAAC rules and policies.

Steve Argo serves as the conference's sports information director and assistant compliance officer. Argo came to the TAAC in November 1984 after sportswriting stints with the Athens Banner-Herald, The Daily News in Athens, Ga., and The Times in Gainesville, Ga.

Charlie McCarthy heads up the TAAC's supervision of basketball officials. McCarthy, a veteran official in the Southeastern Conference for over two decades, is in his tenth year with the TAAC and is based out of Independence, La.

The TAAC is most proud of the progress made in the '80s. And while some critics may seem unimpressed by its new heights, consider that only two current members of the TAAC had been Division I before 1970 — Centenary joining in 1960 and Georgia State in 1964. Watch us grow in the 1990s!

ALL-AMERICANS

In the long and storied history of basketball at Centenary College, five players have received All-American honors over the past 36 years: Connie Mack Rea in 1953, Burl Plunkett in 1954, Milton "Chief" Williams in 1958, Tom Kerwin in 1966 and Robert Parish from 1974-76.

Connie Mack Rea was named to the Helms Athletic Foundation All-American team in 1953. The 6-foot-3 175-pound forward played for Centenary from 1951-53. He currently ranks 27th on the Centenary all-time scoring list with 828 points.

"He was the finest baseline driver I've ever seen at Centenary or anywhere else for that matter," Bill McIntyre, a sports writer for THE TIMES, said about Rea. "He would drive down the baseline, reach under from behind the backboard and flip the ball in from underneath the backboard."

Burl Plunkett was named to the Helms Athletic All-American team in 1954. Plunkett was a 6-foot-5 forward who scored 750 points ranking him 37th on the all-time scoring list from 1953-55. In addition, he led the team in scoring during the 1953-54 season averaging 17.9 points per game. He scored three 30 point-or-more games and scored a career high 35 point against Arizona State in 1953.

"He came from Oklahoma and was involved in the rodeo," Jerry Byrd, a sports writer from the SHREVEPORT JOURNAL, said. "He was a raw-bone-old-boy who had a good jump shot and was a good rebounder."

Milton "Chief" Williams was one of only five players across the nation selected Associated Press (AP) Little All-American in 1958. His 36-point scoring outburst against Southeastern Oklahoma that same season was the THEN Centenary single-game record. Williams also led the charge as the Gents pulled off an overtime upset over nationally ranked Memphis State in 1956.

Tom Kerwin was named to the Helms Athletic Foundation All-American team in 1966. Kerwin was an outstanding 6-foot-7 center who broke several individual career records during his playing days, 1963-66. He currently ranks third in points scored with 1,910, sixth in rebounding with 748 and first in most 30-point-or-more games with 24.

In addition, he holds several single season records. He ranks first, second and fourth on the single season leaders list with 27.9, 25.2 and 24.2 scoring averages, respectively. Plus he's listed 12th in rebounding with a 11.0 per game average for the 1964 season. He scored a career high 47 points against Louisiana Tech in 1966 and scored five 40 point-or-more games.

"Kerwin had a soft picturesque hook shot," Gerry Robichaux, former sports editor for THE TIMES, said about Kerwin. "He had a fluid shot and a good temperament. He was very complete player and very smooth at his position (center)."

Robert Parish, a star center for the Boston Celtics, was named to five All-American teams from 1974-76. He was named to Citizens Savings Athletic Foundation All-American team in 1975, the Independent All-American team in 1975 and the College Basketball All-American team in 1976. In addition, he was named to the Associated Press Second Team All-American team in 1976.

Parish set several individual career, single season and game records during his four years at Centenary. He is second on the list behind Willie Jackson with 2,334 career points and first with 1,820 rebounds. He holds the individual single season record for most field goals made in a season (1975-76) with 288. Plus, he set the individual single game record for most points scored in one game with 50 against Lamar in 1972, most field goals attempted with 37, most field goals made with 25, and most rebounds with 33.

"Parish was an intimidator as a defensive and offensive player," Byrd said. "He was a great shot blocker and he was capable of taking control at both ends of the court. When he poured it on there wasn't anyone better."

OUR NICKNAME

The unique nickname "Gentlemen" was first established in the fall of 1922. With the majority of Centenary men also soldiers, the moniker "Gentlemen" was a proud, looked-up-to name and a logical choice. A tongue-in-cheek account that first mentioned the new nickname appeared in the 1923 Yoncopin (Centenary yearbook) in that season's football summary.

"... The boys were beginning to round into pretty good form by this time and as several recruits had been recently added we were beginning to resemble a real college football team.

"Yet there was some doubt on the eve of the first game. Reports from the Marshall camp had them recruiting from the boiler factories and we were made to believe that the Marshall team was coming to Shreveport to mop-up with the "Gentlemen" (You see we had just taken the name of the "Centenary Gentlemen" and far be it from us to start a dispute just at that time).

"Well, we put on our best manners but just couldn't help from running up a seventy-seven to nothing score..."

CONNIE MACK REA
Baltimore Bullets NBA, 1953-54
